

FROM THE STATE HOUSE.

COMMISSIONERS TO SECURE UNIFORM LEGISLATION.

Three Good Appointments Made and Others Under Consideration—The First Application—Artificial Limbs.

During the recent session of the Legislature an act was passed and approved by the Governor on February 28, 1894, entitled "An act to authorize the Governor to appoint a board of commissioners for the promotion of the uniformity of legislation in the United States." This law, which was introduced in the House of Delegates by Mr. J. Alston Cabell, of this city, provides that the Governor shall appoint three commissioners, who are to constitute a board of commissioners for the promotion of the uniformity of legislation in the United States. It shall be the duty of this commission to examine the subject of marriage and divorce, insolvency, the form of notarial certificates, descent and distribution of property, acknowledgment of deeds, execution and probate of wills, and other subjects in which uniformity is desirable. The commission shall also ascertain the best means to effect uniformity in the laws of the States, and to represent the State of Virginia in conventions of like commissions heretofore appointed or to be appointed by other States. It shall consider and draft uniform laws to be submitted for the approval and adoption of the several States, and to devise and recommend such other course of action as shall best accomplish the purpose for which the commission is created. The term of office of these commissioners shall be two years.

In conformity with the provisions of this act, Governor O'Ferrall yesterday appointed Messrs. J. Alston Cabell, of Richmond, E. W. Saunders, of Franklin, and Judge James Keith, of Fauquier, one of the judges-elect of the Court of Appeals, members of that board of commissioners.

THE NAMES NOT YET SELECTED.

The Governor has not yet decided on the names of those whom he will appoint commissioners from this State to co-operate with the national commission in ascertaining the position occupied by the Virginia troops on the battlefields of Chickamauga and Chattanooga. The names of those who are to be appointed by the Governor are to be introduced by Mr. Willard, of Fairfax, in the House of Delegates, and received the signature of the Governor on February 20, 1894. The act provides as follows:

Whereas there has been appointed a United States National Commission whose aim and object is to permanently mark all the positions occupied by the different troops on the battlefields of Chickamauga and Chattanooga, and to further take steps towards making and maintaining national reservations and parks upon these battlefields, and

Whereas several of the Southern States have appointed commissions to co-operate with the said national commission in the marking of these positions, and

Whereas those who were participants in these battles and who are able now to locate the positions are being rapidly diminished in number, and

Whereas the General Assembly of Virginia, That the Governor is hereby authorized and directed to appoint a State Commission, to consist of three members, all of whom shall be ex-Confederate soldiers who have taken part in one or both of these battles. And it shall be the duty of this commission to co-operate with the National Commission in the ascertaining of the positions occupied by the Virginia troops in the battle of Chickamauga and Chattanooga.

An amount not to exceed two hundred and fifty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, has been appropriated to cover the expenses of this State Commission.

Governor O'Ferrall said yesterday that he found it rather difficult to select the proper men for the commission. He would appoint Captain George D. Wise, and had also in mind Colonel John E. Anderson, but the latter had declined the office on account of the pressure of business. Colonel Anderson stated in his letter that the fifty-fourth and sixty-third Infantry of the battle of Chickamauga, and he suggested the names of a number of officers who he thought would be able to locate the several positions of the Virginia troops.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS AND ARMS.

Among the laws enacted by the last Legislature is one providing that Confederate soldiers who lost a leg or arm during the late war should be provided with artificial limbs out of next year's appropriation in lieu of their pensions. The Governor and Auditor of Public Accounts are appointed under this law to board and make the necessary arrangements for the securing of the required number of artificial limbs, and the sum of $4,000 has been set aside to defray the expenses to be incurred.

A circular letter has been sent by the Auditor of Public Accounts to the various Confederate soldiers who have lost limbs and are pensioners, in order to ascertain whether they desire to be supplied with artificial limbs instead of money. In most instances the pensioners have declared that they prefer to receive money.

Governor O'Ferrall and Colonel Marrye had quite a lengthy conference on the subject yesterday.

HIS FIRST APPLICATION FOR OFFICE.

Governor O'Ferrall yesterday received a letter from Mr. Peyton B. Harrison, of Martinsville, Va. Enclosed in this letter was an application for the position of clerk of the County Court of Berkeley county, dated February 4, 1893, which Mr. O'Ferrall sent to Mr. Harrison's father. The Governor explained that at that time he was seventeen years old, and he made his application to Mr. Harrison inasmuch as his ability to fill the place had been doubted. That he received the appointment goes without saying.

Mr. Harrison, the father of the gentleman who wrote to the Governor, was killed in the first battle of Manassas, together with two cousins of Mr. Holmes.

The writer states that at that time he was only two years old, and he does not know Governor O'Ferrall, but he is in hopes that he may meet him at some future time.

TO MURDER IN A COMPANY.

Adjutant-General Charles J. Anderson, who returned yesterday morning from New York, left yesterday afternoon for Norfolk, where he will make up the military service the Jackson Light Infantry, a new company which has recently been organized there.

WANT TO GO TO FREDERICKSBURG.

Major D. A. Kuyk, the commandant of the Hospital Corps of the First Regiment, called on the Governor yesterday, requesting him to permit the corps to accompany him to Fredericksburg on the occasion of the unveiling of the Martha Washington monument. The Governor stated that there was no objection, provided the men were willing to pay their expenses, because no State funds are available for such a purpose.

Captain Anderson, of Company F, states that his company has decided to take part in the ceremonies at Fredericksburg in May 19th.

PAROLE GRANTED.

Governor O'Ferrall yesterday granted a parole to Della Clarke, a colored woman who was convicted in the Hustings Court of Richmond of petit larceny. She has been in jail for two months, and her parole was granted on account of ill health.

BOARD OF VISITORS TO MEET.

The Board of Visitors of the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College at Blacksburg will hold its first session this year at the office of the president, Judge Wickham, at 6 o'clock.

The train from Richmond, which leaves here at 9 A. M., will reach Christiansburg, the nearest railroad station, at 6:46

TELLS OF NEW THINGS.

MR. NEEDHAM TO THE COLORED PEOPLE AT THE TABERNACLE.

No Preaches of the New Jerusalem and the Many Changes that Come to the Seekers After God—Good Music.

The lights were burning brightly in the Moody tabernacle last evening, and on a slightly modified scale, the same scene was enacted as on the night before.

Rev. Thomas C. Needham, who for two weeks past has preached to the colored people with fine effect, and won a high place in their estimation, held the platform.

Mr. Jacobs, of whose fine voice the people never seem to tire, conducted the singing. The choir, by reason of the meeting, commenced with a new song, and other reasons was somewhat depleted, but the music was nearly as good as on other occasions.

The tabernacle was about half filled with colored people when the services were opened, and the crowd was considerably augmented by late comers.

Dr. Corey, of the 3d opening prayer, and was followed at intervals between the songs by the leader and Rev. W. P. Hines.

Andrew J. Boler, who led in the hymns peculiar to his people the evening before, sang "The New Jerusalem," and was joined by the congregation.

Mr. Needham, about the New Jerusalem from the 21st chapter of Revelations. He then stated that he had been greatly helped in his preaching in the churches, and that he was now going to sing, and requested that they sing "Roll, Jordan, Roll."

This old hymn, which seemed to please Mr. Moody so much the night before, again rang out, and the old tabernacle resounded with the shouts of their many voices.

A NEW SERMON.

Mr. Needham said he had prepared a new sermon for the occasion; one that had never been used before, on new things. He took his text from the 21st chapter of Revelations and it was entitled, "The man who accepts the gospel of Jesus Christ and believes in him is born again, and becomes a new man; new things open up unto him; he is actually a new creature in Christ Jesus."
